THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L.

Respecting Russo-American relations, our commentators have turned gloomy. Secretary of State George Marshall, who undoubtedly prompted the request of President Truman for aid to Greece and Turkey is not receiving the strong united support of all Americans which he needs. Senator Taft maneuvers for delay, and in that much helps the Russian opposition.

The alternative, according to Dean Acheson under secretary of state, to rendering the two countries aid and doing it within weeks, not months, will be a general lowering of U. S. prestige throughout the world. It is unfortunate of course that the British were rather precipitate in their plans to withdraw aid from the two countries, and that more time was not given for consideration in the U. S. Congress. As for war. Acheson does not think that ation of the United States to bolster Greek and Turkish governmental stability, will result in conflict with Russia..

But, our commentators at the moment, are very sanguine with respect to avoiding war with Russia in the future. 10, 15 or 20 years from now. So, if war between a totalitarian Russia must come, as it did twice with totalitarian Germany, and if our aid to Greece and Turkey, proves to be the first step toward war, it were undoubtedly better to have it now while the United States is stong and Russia and the rest of the world particularly weak, than later.

As it looks today there are a number of things American can especially regret regarding their relations with Russia during the last war. The lift we gave Russia amounting to some several billions, enabled Russia at long last to beat off the Germans. If we had studied the war and its effects with the same diligence and detachment as did Joseph Stalin, for instance, it might have profited us, from a scientific and unchristian point of view to have withheld some of the aid we gave, and let Russia take a much more sevee beating than she did. We still think with some shame that our American troops gave the Russians the right of first entry into Berlin. It is quite true that this "courtesy" to an ally saved a good many hundreds of our American boys.

But any militarist will probably now admit that thus was a mistake from the standpoint of world strategy. The lives saved them will be expended, if war comes, many times over. Russia which first embraced an alliance with the transgressor Germany, and then finally was forced to fight on the side of British and American, has not changed its world diplomacy one jot, its alliances are altogether for the purpose of preserving the very limited oligarchy that controls some 180,000,000 Communitsts in a more abject and servile life, and on a grander scale, than any other people in history. To do this, just as happened in the case of nazism, it is necessary to convert more and more people to the same slave status. For the Russians are slaves to the state, just as surely as the Germans were.

The role of the United States historically has been to fight on the side of individual liberty which includes all those blessings that have brought this nation to its present place of power and affluence on earth. If we falter now, it will mean, that as a people we have changed and value security and ease more than we do liberty.

However, even if we place a higher value on security, a lesser thing, by far than individual liberty, that too we will have to fight for in the long run, because in Russia, where a few years ago the nation's wheat was traded for foreign exchange while a huge area was without bread and suffered famine, personal security can and is sacrificed to the "higher interests of the state." And this is good Communist doctrine underadulterated with any Red Cross sentamentalism. It feeds cheek by jowl in the same trough with nazism. Let us never mistake it because it is called a different name.

CRAMER SUGGESTS USING TERMINAL FOR HOSPITAL

GRASS VALLEY: Gilbert Cramer who recently purchased the acreage on Bank Street belonging formerly to Nevada County Narrow Gauge Railway and used as a terminal, speaking before the Lions Club, called attention to the availability of the big terminal freight building for hosital purposes.

He stated that there was 4520 square feet available now for hospital uses, and that he believed it could be handled by a local group. If wings were added, as many as 60 beds with plenty of space for each one could be provided. He said the cost would be far less than $10,000 per bed recently estimated by a state official.

Cramer said that in time Stewart Street will be continued through his property to Colfax Avenue, and that a large mercantile firm had taken building sites and would commence construction this summer.

HUGE CROWD SEES SUNDAY AIR SHOW, GILMORE HONORED

LYMAN GILMORE HONORED; STUART CHALMERS WINS BOMB CONTEST; JOE BLAKE SECOND

GRASS VALLEY: Grass Valleyans turned out in throngs yesterday to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Gilmore Airfield and to do honor to Lyman Gilmore, who built the field and for many years prior to 1907 was one of America's foremost plane makers and experimenters.

Despite an early morning overcast and threats of rain during the forenoon, the flight breakfast for members of the Grass Valley Flying Sportsmen's Club and visiting airmen took place as scheduled at the Jopamavi Saddle Club headquarters in Glenbrook.

Between noon and 1 p. m. there was a display of model planes of which Dr. Harry Stewart's powered plane was the feature.

Crowds began to gather along the outskirts of the airfield at noon and steadily grew until at 4 p. m. it was estimated there were 2000 spectators present.

George Endter, manager of the Grass Valley Flying Service, gave an exhibition of how not to fly. A group of Grass Valley men were then piloted by Endter in a series of bombing runs in which the bombs were 5 pound paper bags of dehydrated lime. One by one made their runs and dropped their "bombs". Winner of the first prize was Stuart Chalmers who came nearest the target. First prize was $20. Capt. Joe Blake of the California Highway Patrol was ceond and win $15. Third prize was awarded to Dr. O. F. Lang and fourth to Wesley Donnenwirth, each $5.

Much moved, Lyman Gilmore was awarded a handsome plaque in recognition of his achievements as inventor and plane builde. He made a brief address thanking the people of Grass Valley for their esteem and appreciation.

Prizes were awarded by William Stinson, the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce committee chairman in charge of the event. Howard Smiley was master of ceremonies.

DUTCH FLIER RETURNS TO SETTLE HERE

GRASS VALLEY: John Koostra, former sergeant major with the Royal Netherlands Air Force, has arrived in Grass Valley with the intention of making his home here.

Kostra was one of the Dutch airmen who were given a vacation in Bret Harte Inn here in 1943 before their departure for the East Indies.

He states that during his service in the East Indies the Dutch Air Forces, he kept the hope of returning to Grass Valley to make his home. He stated he thought 60 per cent of the Dutch airmen who enjoyed a brief holiday in Grass Valley three years ago were casualties in the subsequent fighting in the East Indies.

Woodcraft Delegates For Chico Meet

GRASS VALLEY: Arbor Vitae Circle, No. 395, Neighbors of Woodcraft last week chose delegates to attend the district meeting at Chico May 2nd and 3rd. The delegates are Theresa Lambrecht, Hilda Jory and Irma Harris.

The circle will give a public card party in the Auditorium Building on Thursday evening, April 17th, Birthday of members born in March was celebrated with a huge birthday cake as the feature of the refreshment table.

TRINITY WINDOW DEDICATED TO ENGLEBRIGHT

NEVADA CITY: In Trinity Episcopal Church yesterday during morning worship, the beautiful window erected to the memory of William F. Englebright, Kitty F. Englebright and their son the late representative from this district, Harry Lane Englebright was dedicated to the Glory of God.

Englebright was born in Nevada City in 1884. After graduating from the local schools he entered the University of California, from which he graduated as a mining engineer. He followed this profession until he was elected as a republican to the House of Representatives to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John E. Raker. He was re-elected for eight succeeding terms. He died in office May 13, 143.

Attending the service yesterday were his widow, Mrs. Grace Englebright and son, H. Jackson Englebright.

Miss Darlis Bennetts Weds Lloyd Kilby

GRASS VALLEY: Miss Darlis Mardel Bennetts and Lloyd Nelson Kilby were married Saturday at 8 p. m. in the Methodist Church. Rev.. Jesse R. Rudkin conducted the service.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, George F. Bennetts of this city. Matron of honor was Mrs. Ivan Jacoby of Sacramento. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jerry Twilling, Miss Phyllis Floring, Miss Holdener and Miss Doris Crispin.

Jerry Twilling was best man. Ushers were Elton Bennetts, cousin of the bride and Carl Wasley of Sacramento. Harold Hansen sang The Wedding Song and Because, accompanied by Mrs. Camille Cornish..

A reception was held in Wesley Hall, at which the mother of the bride, Mrs. George Bennetts received the guests. A dance followed in Bret Harte Inn from 10 to 12 p. m. The couple left for a honeymoon in San Francisco.

The bride graduated from the Grass Valley high school and Mt. St. Mary's Academy9. She has been employed for more than four years. Her husband is the son of Mr., and Mrs. W. E. Kilby of Hot Springs, Arkansas. He received his discharge from the navy two weeks ago after serving six ears, the latter part of which he was radarman first class.

Grass Valley Resident Will Be Borne To Rest

GRASS VALLEY: Funeral services will be held this afternoon in the Hoper and Weaver Mortuary for Mrs. Etta Belle Stone, who died Friday in a local hospital following a stroke. Rev. Jesse R. Rudkin conducted the service. Interment will be in the Greenwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Stone was born 66 years ago in Pennsylvania. She had lived in Grass Valley three years. She leaves her husband, Sophine Stone, and brothers, A. B. Douglas, Clovis, California, A. B. Douglas, Pennsylvania, D. E. Douglas, Napa County, Mrs. Sarah Jones, Pennsylvania and Mrs. Annie Johnson, Grass Valley.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY ASKS FOR RELICS

An urgent appeal is being made by the Nevada County Historical Society for relics, pictures and historical books pertaining to the county from 1850 to 1890 to the residents of Nevada County.

The newly acquired museum is undergoing a complete renovation as painting, installation of lights, display cases and scores of jobs are being done by the museum committee each day at the old fire house in Main Street. Items can be either loaned or granted as gifts to the society. People having these are urged to contact Mrs. Doris Foley, president of the society or Elmer Stevens, museum chairman.

Monday evening April 7th has been set as the official opening date and it is hoped local residents will co-operate in the opening and maintenance of what can be a great asset to the city.

The committee cites an Indian town that maintained a museum and with a population of 1500 it enjoyed a tourist trade of over 13,000 in one year.

Mrs. Foley is in hopes that some arrangements can be made to keep the museum opened this spring and summer.

Latest donors to the museum are the Hydraulic Parlor N. S. G. W. who entered the old stage coach once housed in the rear of the Elks Temple here. The Sierra Glass Company has contributed work on framing a number of pictures. It is hoped other local people will catch the spirit of the centennial and contribute relics before the opening night.

MANSLAUGHTER HEARING APRIL 12

GRASS VALLEY: Preliminary hearing for Dwight A. Lewis, 25, musician, charged with involuntary manslaughter, has been set by Justice of the Peace Walter H. Morehouse for Saturday, April 12th, at 10 a. m.

Lewis, a Lodi dance band leader who has played a number of engagements in Grass Valley and Nevada City, on March 13th, lost control of his car on a turn in the Grass Valley-Auburn Highway. Arthur Leighton, 62, who was painting a car in the Chris Hansen wrecking yard at that time was struck and killed when he was pinned against the side of the wokshop by the Lewis' car. A coroner's jury found Leighton's death was due to fractures and intestinal puncture caused by Lewis' car.

JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder now, speaking of letters,
Should we carefully write them by rule,
In etiquettical fashion,
We learned from our books while in school?
Or may we in less formal manner,
Just write as we talk with a friend,
And then with meticulous patience
Place a legible name at the end?

I wonder if you ever receive letters to which are appended absolutely illegible signatures. We do. We received an one but a few days since; it came from a stranger who lives in a far county and as the body of the letter was readable and interesting, we should like to answer it, but the scrawl at the close of the missive might just as well have been written in an obsolete language in so far as its legibility was concerned and now, we don't know what to do.

We have, in the past, solved similar problems by the processes of deduction, but in this case, there is no clue and we are totally at sea. Now, a signature is a most important part of a letter, even when the contents are casual, containing nothing of stirring interest; we all like to know from whom our letters come, and I for one, enjoy answering those directed to me; so let us all be on guard when we scribble our monikers at the close of a letter. The reader will surely be made glad thereby.

Speaking still of letters; it seems to me that some of the excuses used for not replying to them are very uncomplimentary to the recipients. Here comes a letter from a friend, from whom we have not heard for almost a year and what is her excuse. "I just didn't have time to write." Have you ever used that excuse and have you stopped to analyze its implications?

The excuse, "I couldn't find time to write to you" is bad psychology; it never fails to give one an inferiority complex. If a friend cannot find time to write to m while months pass by, I must be of small consequence in her list of acquaintances, then too, if there is no time for writing a letter or at least a penny post card, will she have time to sit down and read any missive I might address to her? I fear not. And so, fearing to disrupt routine, I refrain. The correspondence bids fair to peak and pine..

I wonder what the results would be, the Big Four were induced to read, memorize and seriously consider these lines from the poem The Arsenal at Springfield which was written many years ago by our best beloved poet, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

"Were half the power that fills the world with terror
Were half the wealth bestowed on camps and courts,
Given to redeem the human mind from error,
There were no need of arsenals or forts."

—Adeline Merriam Conner..

BROAD STREET

By Harley M. Leete, Jr.

There's a certain building down on the corner, we're not naming it, but besides the district attorney and other concerns, it now houses non-rent paying tenants. Before you get all excited—it's a busy family of English sparrows, who are building a duplex apartment in the brick molding between the first and second floor. In case any of you sparrows are reading this, I suggest you use a little less insulated wire and a little more straw — makes for a cozier nest.

In the last issue of Broad Street, we told how everyone here at the Nugget but the Boss and Mrs. Ruth Bowles had been fingered by fiendish flu. Correction: Even as the giant press imprinted those words, Mrs. Bowles started to feel rocky, and went home a little later. However, Mrs. Bowles made a quick recovery and was back on the job Friday. Now the only Nugget-eer unscarred by the current flu epidemic is H. M. Leete, Sr. He ascribes his resistance to consuming a pack of smokes every day without fail. Kills the germs..

Paul Ullrich, Chicago Park rancher, and Republican Central Committee chairman offers to put a knot on my head for my kind words about parking metes Thursday. He is one visitor who does NOT like them. "Taxation without representation," says Paul. "The streets have already been paid for once."

An exceptionally discerning merchant this morning put his finger on what may be a good part of the meter problem: "Bring ANYTHING new into a little town like this and you have a big uproar at first, until people get used to it."

The recent luncheon meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was a great success in more ways than one. For one thing, attendance was over double what we have at the night meetings. For another, speakers had a sense of the shortness of time. What they said was to the point—no reminiscing or eulogies to pets; no extraneous orations. The chamber might benefit by having all of its meetings at noon time..

People in small towns get too excited about unimportant things. Frequently something which is really not of the least importance occurs, but instead of the townsfolk accepting it with the blase air of indifference which it deserves, why, you'd think the world was going to come to an end. The Nugget's Thought for Today: If you must get all worked to about something pick on the world situation. It appears to be marvelously complicated, dangerous and in a dreadful mess. In other words, an ideal topic for Getting Oneself Worked Up About.

Every once in a while somebody warns us that we are going to lose business as a result of taking sides on some hot local issue. Phooey! Money is pretty handy, but what makes America a little better than the cornier parts of the world is the privilege to get right up on your hind legs and say wnat you think. If there's an issue that's important to the welfare of the town, we'll take sides in it. We'll try, mostly, for whatever is best for the town as a whole. And in cases where the town's welfare is not at stake we'll speak right up for our own selfish interest, just like everybody else does.

Inside WASHINGTON

Big Union Wage Drives Foreseen During 1947 | Admission of Ex-Foes Brings Russian Protest

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON — Nearly every big union in the country has launched or is talking about 1947 wage drives—all except the railroad brotherhoods.

Rail union chiefs are well aware of the general wage movement, but they are resisting demands of their membership that they climb on the bandwagon.

Hjalmar Procope

Not that they don't want higher wages. Quite the contrary. But the leaders believe their best strategy is to mark time for several months and watch the price picture.

● LOOK FOR FRESH OUTBURSTS from the Communist press throughout the world at the admission into the United States of Nazis and others who sided with the Axis during the war.

Moscow has already clamored against issuance of a visa for Hjalmar J. Procope, former Finnish minister in Washington. Procope would prefer to join his British wife and two children in Britain. But he cannot go there because Britain has not yet signed the Finnish peace treaty.

Kurt Sell, former German newspaperman in Washington, was repatriated after Pearl Harbor, and since then, has worked in Lisbon where he has maintained a scrupulous silence in associating with his peace-time acquaintances. Sell's friends who knew him before Hitler rose to power—and probably he has many—doubt that he ever was a thorough Nazi. Yet his return would probably arouse much criticism.

● POLITICAL OBSERVERS BELIEVE that one piece of administration legislation that will get the right-of-way in the new Republican-dominated 80th Congress will be some sort of Army-Navy merger bill.

The Republicans generally are not hostile to President Truman's plan, which did not come up for a vote in the 79th Congress.

Uppermost in their minds is the thought of economy which seems to be inherent in any plan to unify the armed forces.

The president's recent order merging sea, air and land commands in the various areas is also regarded as a long step in this direction.

* * * *

● POLITICAL WISEACRES, who are not taken in by his quiet manners and public silence, are eyeing Senator Eugene Millikin (R) of Colorado. To his party colleagues, he's still a "junior" senator, but his name has been mentioned for some of the top posts.

Had Senator Wallace White (R) of Maine declined the majority leadership in the 80th Congress, Millikin looked to be the compromise selection. There is still a move afoot to create a "deputy majority leader." Observers say it will be Millikin. He has not enough seniority for a regular committee chairmanship, but he will head the important joint Congressional atomic committee.

Millikin regards himself as a "moderator," who "weaves" conflicting views into a workable solution. The World War I Army colonel is not given to lengthy statements to reporters. "I'm not going to shoot off my mouth," he says.

● WATCH FOR SOME SPIRITED BIDDING when pro football club owners shop around for likely prospects among the 1946 crop of college stars.

Break for Professional Footballers

The National Football League no longer has the air-tight hold that it had since the pro game started. The infant All-America Conference has changed all that, and top-ranking college players can wait for a while next year, before they sign their contracts, to select the highest bid.

Heretofore, they had to take what they could get in the National League draft. Now the All-America Conference, which was not hesitant about accepting players who jumped from the National league in 1946, is expected to make the salary business tougher. Some sports observers even see a greater use of bonuses to attract the better prospects.

PLANS FOR YOUTH CENTER PROGRESSING IN AUBURN AREA

AUBURN: Progress toward the formation of an Auburn district youth center was made at a meeting held at the city hall Tuesday by a large group of interested people from Auburn and vicinity.

Plans for the acquisition of roller skates for a young people's skating rink, which will be established at the old high school gymnasium have been started.

The ways and means committee will make immediate arrangements to secure funds with which to purchase the necessary skates and put the floor into shape for skating..

The local VFW post, one of the original promoters of the youth movement, was authorized to investigate the possibilities of a suitable location for recreational purposes.

The mining building at the fair grounds has been considered and the committee will determine whether or not it will be suitable and available.

MANY SIGNATURE ARTISTS WORKING IN PLACER COUNTY NOW

AUBURN: Placer County merchants this week were urged by Sheriff E. J. Kenison to use caution when cashing checks offered by persons unknown to them.

There has been a virtual flood of worthless checks reported taken by business firms in Auburn, Roseville, Colfax and Loomis during the past month. Kenison said and although the sheriff's office has been successful in rounding up many of the worthless check operators new complaints come in every few days.

In most instances the checks passers are apprehended and the check passers are made good, but not in all cases. The usual procedure is for the passer to enter a store, cash a check, make a few minor purchases and then take cash in change. Often the passer gives the name of a well known employer for whom he has been working—not mentioning the fact that he has only very recently quit work or been fired..

"If you don't know the endorser," Kenison said, "it's a good idea not to cash the check. It may save you time and money."

CANCER DRIVE STARTS HERE APRIL FIRST

County quotas totaling $1,132,400 as California's share of the campaign to fight cancer have been approved by the board of directors of the California Cancer Campaign, it was announced today by Ray B. Wiser, state campaign chairman.

Nevada County's quota was set at $2500.

In view of the alarming death rate from cancer in California, which amounts to more than 1000 monthly or 35 daily, Wiser said, it was the campaign committee's hope that quotas will be exceeded in most counties.

The campaign which begins on April 1, will seek to raise funds to finance a re-vitalized three way fight against cancer—the only disease that still defies science with an increasing death rate. Funds will be used to expand the present educational campaign aimed at early detection of cancers; to broaden the service program that finances diagnostic and detection clinics, and to continue the program of research into the causes and cure of cancer.

WESTBOUND CARS AGAIN ON TREND UPWARD IN MONTH

TRUCKEE: Despite three days less in the month, westbound traffic through the Truckee state quarantine station showed an increase in February over January, going from a total of 6637 non local automobiles to 10,873. Passengers carried rose from 25,799 to 27,632 and Truckee's relative position among the state's border stations rose from fifth to fourth, the report showed.

Blythe, Yermo, and Fort Yuma, all in southern California, led Truckee last month.

There were 546 clearing the local station last month with 10,555 passengers. Commercial trucks totalled 1175 through here in February.

The stateline station at Lake Tahoe registered a gain of 95 passenger cars over the preceding month, totaling 1158 in February. These carried 2891 passengers..

AUBURN DISTRICT ASKED TO PROPOSE FULL TIME SALARY

AUBURN: The board of supervisors at the last meeting requested District Attorney C. E. Tindall to propose a salary figure which he would accept for full time duty with no private practice..

At the present time the district attorney is allowed to accept private practice in addition to his duties as public prosecutor.

The board also asked for a recommendation as to a salary for a full time deputy district attorney with no private practice..

The matter came up for discussion when Tindall appeared before the board and asked for additional space for the district attorney's office.

The board felt it might be more economical to employ the district attorney and one assistant on a full time basis, with the office confined solely to county work, rather than to continue the present system where part of the time and office space involve private pactice.

Tindall will report back at the April meeting of the board..

April the rainy month is a time of slick pavements and skiding autos. If you're driving make sure it is at a safe speed for instant stops. You may save a life. If you're walking look both ways before crissing the street. The National Conservation Bureau says April showers should remind you that if you drive with your head in the clouds you may find a permanent home there..

Bush Climbing Lizard Reported By Biologist

LOS ANGELES: If, when you're driving the highway between Palm Springs and Indio, you see large grey white reptiles climbing in the bushes don't think you're being affected by the desert heat.

These creatures are desert iguanas a type of crested lizard, reports Dr. Raymond B. Cowles, associate professor of biology on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California, in a recent issue of Copeia.

The lizards come out of their underground holes in the morning to bask in the sun and feed. As the sun grows warmer, they seek shade from which to make short sorties for insects and flowers near the ground. When the sun gets too hot, they return to their undergrounid burrows.

It is between the morning basking period and the reteat to cooler depths, says Dr. Cowles, that the iguanas often climb bushes and small trees to eat the leaves and flowers.. Sometimes they are found 5 to 6 feet off the ground.

Beware of burns in March and April. Death and injury from burns rise during the winter months and are still high during March and April, reports the National Conservation Bureau. Between nine and ten thousand persons are accidently killed every year by burns resulting from fire, chemicals, steam and other hot substances.

Chester Prisk Buys School House And Two Acres

GRASS VALLEY: Chester Prisk's bid of $3750.50 for the Bear River school house was the highest, Carl Brock, clerk of the Bear River school road reports.

The Bear River school will close in June and will not reopen. The district has voted to join the Grass Valley school district and pupils beginning next fall will be transported by bus to local schools.

Prisk, Grass Valley business man will not take possession until school is closed. Two acres of land was included in the sale.

The Bear River was one of the earliest schools established in Nevada County. Population in the district in the war years was greatly increased and though the district voted bonds to erect more class rooms, a CPA ruling prevented construction last year when it was most needed. The overflow of students is being cared for this year by the Grass Valley school board.

OVER DRIVING DANGEROUS

On long trips stop and relax occasionally, but always stop well off the highway. Don't over drive yourself or your car. Fatigue takes the pleasure out of motoring and is a frequent cause of accidents.

KEEP PRESSURE EVEN

Uneven air pressure in your car's tires may cause uneven braking particularly on wet pavements.

The urge for tolerance is closely associated with those who are quickest to accuse other people of intolerance.

If you get a list of the war profiteers you will have a list of those who opposed the renegotiation of war contracts.

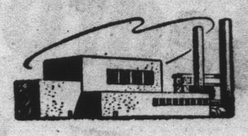
300 Million DOLLARS in NEW POWER PLANTS and Service Installations


California's industrial development before and during the war has become permanent growth—the postwar trend is upward! We are going places in a big way!... in industry, payrolls, population and markets.
Immediately after wartime building restrictions were lifted, P.G. and E. began to provide increased service for Northern and Central California to meet new and increased demands for gas and electricity and to build well ahead of anticipated growth. In 1946 approximately $45,000,000 was spent toward that end. AND NOW a comprehensive 5-year expansion program has been developed calling for the expenditure of an additional $300,000,000 by the end of 1951.
New power plants will be constructed and others enlarged, adding about 1,000,000 horsepower to P. G. and E.'s power capacity. Also included in the program is a vast systemwide expansion of transmission and distribution facilities.
P. G. and E. will be fully ready to help Northern and Central California grow during the busy years ahead with a power capacity of more than 3,500,000 horsepower.

NEWS OF NEV. COUNTY VETFRANS OFFICE

The Nevada County Veterans Service Office is set up to act as the personal representative of the veteran, not only in connection with the rights and benefits to which he is entitled, but to assist him in every possible way in his adjustment to civilian life.

Reviewing the varied services made available through this office, it is ointed out that widows and other dependents of deceased servicemen are offered valuable council on their rights in connection with pensions, service and terminal leave pay, insurance, social security benefits and other matters.

The reintegration of veterans into civilian life is primarily a home town job, and our organization is striving to do that job with the best possible advantage to the veteran" this office states.

In addition to processing of veteran's applications for benefits such as disability compensation, terminal leave pay, reestablishment or conversion of insurance, the office provides information and assistance in matters pertaining to housing, farm and home loans, education, vocational rehabilitation, hospital care and numerous other subjects.

Service at the office, located at 310 West Main Street, Grass Valley, is personalized and all veterans and others seeking assistance obtain individual counceling with regard to their problems, Walter N. McCormack, Count Service Officer and Mrs. Coral D. Morton, Assistant Service Officer can be contacted at this address, or phoning 336.

Perfect Lens Yet To Be Found In Human Eye

SAN FRANCISCO: The perfect lens has yet to be found in a human eye; congenital abnormalities, however minute are seen in every lens.

These points are noted by Dr. F. C. Cordes, professor of ophthalmology in the University of California Medical School in a study of congenital cataracts.

"Practically all lenses, even those of young children, show some dust-like opacities." Dr. Cordes states. "A clear lens one in the sense of a good photographic or miscroscopic lens is probably nonexistent in the human eye."

The physician states that while small opacities can be classified as congenital cataracts in a sense they are not usually thought of as such.

The types of congenital cataracts are numerous and the known varieties have been greatly expanded in recent years b the development of the slit lamp and the corneal miscoscope fo study of the dilated pupil.

Dr. Cordes points out that most congenital cataracts are stationary and cause no interference with vision, though in 50 per cent of cases they do cause other ocular disturbances such as dimness of vision, involuntary movement of the eyeball, etc.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON NEVADA COUNTY

In the past few days there has been a constant flow of heavy logging equipment through town, on its way into the deep woods. Now is the time when the Paul Bunyon of our day is sharpening his ax and toning his husky voice for the call of "tim-m-ber.' The echo of the booming crash of the salwart pine tells us once again, spring is here..

A party of Washington residents went to Chico State College Saturday night to see the school drama "Mr. Pim Passes By" starring Earnest Neasham. Mr. Neasham has been attending Chico State since his return from army service. His wife is teaching school here in Washington. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Neasham of this town. Attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Neasham, Mr. and Mrs. William Stenenson, Mrs. Lowden of Oregon.

Mrs. Mabel Munkman, Mrs. Earnest Neasham and son Stevie and Mr. Cole and son Clyde

Cary Arbogast, county supervisor and his wife were here from Nevada City, Wednesday visiting friends. While here they toured the Tahoe Sugar Pine sawmill.

Mr. Bergarman of Oakland has bought the building next door to the Red and White store. Te intends to convert it into apartments.

Mrs. Hettinger went to the doctor Thusday to have a cast removed from her leg. She had fallen from her porch breaking her ankle, eight weeks ago.

Last Tuesday Mr. Garner went to Oakland. He is returning this week end with his wife. The Garners are building a home here..

Mrs. Thomas Swanson is feeling better. She returned home from the hospital last Sunday..

Mr. Cole and crew have been taking advantage of the ounty road truck which has been granted them for ten days. They are filling in the ruts and holes from the sawmill to Highway 20.

Monopolism

Norway has little government-managed industry, as such. The only things wholly owned and operated by the government are the post office, telephone and telegraph, electric power, and railroads. There seems to be no agitation for extension of government ownership and management. In fact, some leaders feel the trend is in the other direction and that the government has shown no ability to provide efficient service.

However, cooperatives are numerous in Norway. Entirely different from government management, they nevertheless control the buying and selling of almost everything and are monopolistic in nature. The effective organizations of the co-ops, while individually owned, have been used in some instances for extension of government control. Subsidies have been offered to framers' cooperatives in an effort to please everybody: the producers with higher prices and the purchasers with low prices.

Wait 'Til You're Old

The completeness of the cooperative monopoly may be seen in the association of drug store operators, to which all operators belong. To open a new drug store a man would first have to become a member of the association and get its approval, after which he would appeal to the government for a license. The government could never grant a license unless the applicant were admitted to the association.

Drug store operators admit no new members except at their own pleasure, and then seldom except to replace a member who has died. I was told that an aspirant to the drug industry can seldom be admitted to the association and obtain permission to operate his own store before he is 45 years old.

Plenty of Frontiers

A successful business man in Oslo, who was a prominent leader of the resistance during the war, is in charge of an old firm with an excellent reputation. Said he: "The regulations have come to interfere with everything. I am no longer really doing business. I just sit here and do what they tell me I can do. In my opinion, the controls are a failure. They make production more expensive and prices higher."

Under the right kind of economic climate, the Norwegian people could raise their standard of living. And this right climate Communism can never provide. Norway does not lack for frontiers. Their farms produce as many bushels of grain per acre as our farms. The fishing waters of Norway are not surpassed. Possibilities for electric power are the best in the world. Manufacturing and lumbering offer only the ordinary difficulties. The country is not over populated. Yet their standard of living is not more than half as high as that in America.

There Is a Way Out

When forward looking Norwegians try to modernize an industry, they are met squarely with the deadening hand of monopoly, either private or public. If one fishing company manages to find a way to sell its products at a good price, while another company exports its fish to Europe for a lower price, the former company pays a tax which goes to the second company for the sake of equalization.

This policy invariably discourages excellence and tends to mediocrity. A premium is thus placed on inefficiency and on failure to make money. But a realistic incentive system, based upon honest competition throughout, could soon make little Norway one of the most prosperous small nations in the world.

Newcastle Girl Wins Lions Speaking Contest

NEVADA CITY: Miss Janelle Berger of Newcastle was judged winner of the North Donner Zone, District 4, International Lions, speakers contest, at a meeting of Colfax, Downieville, Auburn, Grass Valley and Nevada City Lions Clubs in Deer Creek Inn here.

There were three contestants. Miss Berger, representing the Colfax Club, Miss Jacqueline Glover of Downieville, Sierra County and Miss Georgia Gilchrist of Auburn.

Judges were Allen Shaffer of Colfax, Roy Tweedy of Downieville and Walter A. Carlson of Nevada City. Theme of the speakers was How Can Youth Through Local Leadership, Strengthen the Responsibilities of Government.. The winner of this contest will next appear in a regional contest and then will go to the state contest. Winner in the state will be awarded a $500 scholarship in an university she or he chooses.

Bakers' Cakes Can Be The Basis of Tasty Desserts

By BETSY NEWMAN

IT does seem sometimes that the modern housekeeper need do no baking, no cooking of any kind except to combine commercial products, and heat or cook frozen products that are all ready for the oven or saucepan. These are very great helps to us all, and we should take advantage of them when we can, but at present it is not the most economical way to buy our foods, although there is a saving of time and no waste.

The young combined business woman and homemaker can be helped a great deal by buying, for instance, ready-made cakes, and "dressing them up," or frozen pies, meat, fish and vegetables. The Baking Institute has issued a number of recipes for very good desserts, using bakers' cakes for the foundation, and I'll give you some in today's list.

Today's Menu

Lamb Chops, Broiled
Baked Sweet Potatoes
Frozen Peas Salad Plate
Butterscotch Pound Cake Dessert
Lemon Boston Cream Cake or
Angel Food Surprise Cake
Tea or Coffee

Butterscotch Pound Cake Dessert

1 pkg. (4½ oz.) butterscotch pudding
1 (14 oz.) loaf pound cake

Prepare butterscotch pudding according to directions on package. Cut pound cake in half lengthwise. With a 2-in. cookie cutter cut out each lengthwise strip into 3 circles. Arrange cake circles in dessert dishes, pour butterscotch pudding over each cake circle and serve. Serves 6.

Lemon Boston Cream Cake

½ c. sugar
3 tbsp. flour
1 egg beaten
1 c. milk, scalded
½ tbsp. butter or margarine
2 tbsp. lemon juice
1 (12-oz.) bakers' gold cake or 6 plain cup cakes
2 tbsp. confectioner's sugar, sifted

Combine sugar, flour and beaten egg in top of double boiler; add milk and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Add butter and lemon juice and cool. Slice cake or cup cakes in half, horizontally; fill with lemon custard filling, replace cake top and sift confectioner's sugar over top of cake. Serves 6

Angel Food Surprise Cake

1½ oz. cherry gelatin
1 c. hot water
¼ c. pitted red cherries
½ tsp. vanilla extract
1 bakers' angel food cake (13½ oz.)
¾ c. heavy cream, whipped

Dissolve cherry gelatin in water; then chill until slightly thick, fold in cherries, drained. Slice ½ in. of cake from inner rim of angel food cake and cut it into ½ in. cubes; add to cherry gelatin. Refill cake center with cherry gelatin and cake mixture; add vanilla extract to whipped cream. Cover top and sides of cake with whipped cream. Place in refrigerator until ready to serve. Serves 8.

MOTORISTS WARNED ON TOW CAR RACKET

Motorists traveling in or through California's mountain winter resort areas are cautioned by the California State Automobile Association to be on guard against roving tow car operators who accost drivers in trouble and offer assistance, only to charge exorbitant rates for any service rendered..

These tow car operators make a practice of following apparently inexperienced drivers, to be on hand in case they experience difficulty in snow or slush or on icy surfaces.

Any motorist who chooses to engage the service of one of these cruising tow car operators should insist on knowing in advance exactly what the charge will be, the automobile association advises..

1400 KC 250 WATTS

Opening April 1st

IT WILL BE DOOD AGAIN!

This is not Boys' Town, but all you kids from 1 to 100 know the Hughes—"Jo" and Paul—so come on out and meet Cecil at "Kids" Town". This year we will have sand boxes, swings, and a slide board for you little guys ond gals and besides that, Mom won't have to stay out there with you for there will be a mighty nice young lady to look after you from 12 noon to 4 p. m. while Mom does her shopping or bridge playing. And besides that we will have candy, pop, peanuts and most anything that you will enjoy and a nice store just for you 'cause you can't come in the club house unless Mom or Pop are with you or you are over twenty-one years old. And believe it or not—we have a pony ring this year where you can spend a dime or more and ride all you want to!

Be sure to tell Mom or Dad that our club house is open to them for parties or dinner for the family. Most important—tell Daddy that he won't have to come in the club house at all if he will come out with you. He can bring his paper and get a nice lawn chair and relax, and if he happens to want a coke or beer, or even a smoke, some one will bring it right to his chair; he won't even have to spend a penny if he don't want to. And also tell Mom if she wants to entertain her bridge club or sewing circle that we have some awfully nice tables in the club house and she can order beforehand what she wants served and the whole club house will be hers from 12 noon to 4 P. M. if she wants it.

Just think—just far enough off the highway to be out of danger of traffic, and right between two of the best little cities in the world—that is what Paul Hughes is asking you to support. So come on out to the Jopamavi Club for fun for the whole family.

Veterans' News

NSLI the insurance that only veterans and members of the armed forces can buy, is loaded with miscellaneous features designed to give maximum protection and investment values for the lowest possible premium rate.

One of these features is called "waiver of premium." It means that if you should become totally disabled for a period of six months or longer, VA will pay your monthly premiums for as long as your disability continues and refund the payments made after the date of disability. In addition, even while your prmims are being waived, you may premiums being waived, you may permanent policy except an endowment and VA will continue to waive your premiums during your period of total disability..

Another feature is called "disability income rider." This clause added to your policy requires that you take a physical examination and pay a small extra charge, but it gives you a monthly income of five dollars for each $1000 of insurance you are carrying if you should become totally disabled for six months or longer. Payments begin on the first day of the seventh month after your date of disability and continue as long as your disabilty exists.

Most people need a loan sooner or later, and any converted NSLI policy is good for a loan after the policy is one year old.

You may borrow up to 94 per cent of the cash value of your policy at three per cent annual interest.

NSLI also allows a three per cent discount for each year premiums are paid in advance.

Perhaps the most important feature of all for veterans who have service connected disabilities (other than total) is that they can still buy NSLI, disability rider and all. It is probably the only insurance they can get if they are not already insured. The deadline for reinstating or buying NSLI while disabled is January 1, 1950.

Q: What is the date due of my premium on my National Service Life Insurance policy?

A: The date on which a premium is due is the same date in the month as that on which the insurance was originally made effective.. This date is on your insurance certificate.

Q: My present occupation as a test pilot is a rather dangerous one. Can I get National Service Life Insurance anyway?

A: Yes. if you can meet the health requirements, NSLI carries no restriction because or occupation, travel or residence.

Responding to the demands of many veterans, the federal government has added three types of endowment policies to the National Service Life Insurane program: 20 year endowment, endowment at age 60 and endowment at age 65.

The feature that makes NSLI endowment attractive to many veterans is that they mature at a specified date for the face amount of the insurance. For example, if a veteran wishes to convert his term NSLI to a 20 year endowment for $5000 he would be able to pay up his policy in 20 years and withdraw the $5000 for his own use. He would have full insurance protection during the 20 year period; in event of his death prior to the polic's maturity date, prior to the policy maturity date, $5000 in a lump sum or monthly installments.

Another advantage of endowments is that no matter what kind of financial dfficulty the veteran may get into money he has saved in that his NSLI policy is never subject to attachment, levy or seizue at any time..

Q: What will happen to my NSLI if I become disabled and cannot make payments?

A: All USLI policies carry a provision that protects the policy holder to this extent: if he becomes totally disabled for a six months' period or longer, he may apply for waiver of premium. Future payments will be assumed by the NSLI fund, the face value of the policy remaining the same. In addition, payments made by the policy holder after the date of disability will be refunded.

Q: Iis it true that I can get a discount by paying my NSLI premiums in advance?

A: Yes. You can get a 3 per cent discount on monthly premiums paid one year in advance.

Q: For what term or years can a VA guaranteed loan be made?

A: Home and business real estate loans must be paid within 25 years; farm loans within 40 years; non-real estate loans within 10 years.

Parent Problems

Forcing Your Child to Eat

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

EVER so many children, as late as the age of four or five, will hold food in the mouth without chewing or swallowing it. Some of these children have been gagging or vomiting when fed, or even while food is being prepared for them. In every such case I have followed through, food has been pushed into the child against his will.

I wonder what you and I would do if we had been treated so by some larger, stronger person. Nevertheless, we should not be too hard on the mother who has tried to put food into the youngster as if he were a grinding machine. She has tried conscientiously to get the right amount of food into him.. Sometimes, indeed, she supposes she is following her doctor's advice. A mother has written to me of this problem as follows:

Solid Food

"Dear Dr. Myers:—We have a baby 18 months old. He has never enjoyed his solid food, although with a little coaxing has taken it. Then it got so that he started gagging and sometimes vomiting. I do believe he makes himself do this, for he gags even when I start preparing the food. At times he will gag when we are preparing our meals. It makes me so nervous. Now he eats very little and some meals refuses everything. The only thing he will take readily is spaghetti and tomato sauce.

"I have always taken him regularly to the doctor for a check-up. He says not to worry, the baby is doing splendidly. But matters are getting worse. By this time my baby is supposed to be eating carrots, peas and vegetables from our table. He gags at the slightest lump, so I do not feed him these. He never touches bread or potatoes ... Maybe I'm too nervous and he knows it. I'm always afraid he'll vomit even before I start. When I put him in the high chair he will turn his head away, cover his eyes, and hang over the side. Enclosed are two stamped envelopes for bulletins you think I should have."

In Baby's Place

Sending this mother my bulletins, "The Nervous Mother," and "Eating Problems," I asked her to study them carefully and added about as follows. Try to imagine yourself in that baby's place. Wouldn't you gag and vomit, too? Resolve never to push food into that child. For some while cut down his milk about half so he will get very hungry. At each meal, give him no liquid until after he has been offered some of the mashed solids. It is better not to feed him at all.

Let him feed himself. Place before him on a plate just one food, the portion being not much larger than a lima bean. Place a spoon beside it. Let him use the spoon or his bare hands, whichever he chooses. Say not a word about his eating. Go about your work as if all were well.

If, after a few minutes, he has not chosen to eat the food, remove it (your lips sealed) and let his meal end, making sure he gets no other food except a small amount of milk and fruit juice before the next regular feeding time. If he eats the food, present another food in very small portion, and so on.

If he seems to be annoyed at the food's being placed before him at the table, do not put him in the chair. Instead, leave him on the floor and place the food on a low table or chair and let him come to it or not as he wishes. Hold to the rule—one food at a time and in very, very small amounts, and do not increase the portion for some days, and then only very gradually. Should he go on a hunger strike for more than four successive meals, call your doctor. But if you hold out through three of them you will have more backbone than the average mother has.

NUGGET RECIPES

APPLE CRISP

Juicy apple slices, baked tender, with cinnamon spicing, browned crusted with delicious crumbly coating made with Bisquick; no butter or extra shortening required.

4 cups sliced peeled apples

About 4 tart apples, mixed with 1-2 cup sugar.

WASHINGTON NOTES

By Congressman Clair Engle

GOLD VS. INFLATION

Those who travelled with Secretary Krug throughout the Orient had a chance to see what inflation really is. In Shanghai, for instance, the members of the party wanted a little Chinese money to pick up some trinkets and souvenirs and to pay for incidental expenses while in China. I asked them to get me exchange for $20—they brought me $238,000 in Chinese money, all of it in $1000 or $2000 bills. There was so much of it, it was uncomfortable to carry. It cost $1500 to take a ride on a street car. A meal costs from $15,000 to $25,000. I was amazed to ride by the clothing stores and see shoes advertised at $50,000, $60,000 and $70,000 a paid. The legal rate of exchange is 12,000 Chinese dollars to one American dollar. With a little over $80 in American money buying a million dollars in Chinese money, it is easy to see what shopping is like in China. Over there it is illegal to deal in what they call "gold"— they call all American money gold. A transaction in American paper is called "dealing in gold" although in fact there is no hard money at all in circulation in China.

As far as I can find out, there doesn't seem to be very much that can be done to brace up the Chinese currency. They intend to peg the Chinese dollar at 12,000 to one and then try to kill the black market by the very strongest type of law enforcement. However, I doubt if they can do it. The mayor of Shanghai told me the communists were doing evtrything they could to keep the inflation spiraling in order to insure the collapse of the Chinese central government. This appears to be standard communist tactics — we have seen a little of it in our own country.

In Japan we found the same situation, but not on such a grand scale. The Japanese money has been pegged at fifteen to one which is an artificial price. The black market is quoting 30, 40 and 50 to one, and I heard one quotation in the Imperial Hotel in Tokyo of an exchange being offered at 80 to one. However the military government in Japan is much more capable of controlling the situation than is the Chinese central government.

I regret that more Americans can't see what happens when a currency is inadequately backed by gold and the public loses confidtnce in their government A. gold backing of any substantial percentage would immediately stabilize the Chinese currency, but the gold backing is not available. The example of China, Japan and some of the European countries should be a clear lesson not to follow the pied piper of printing press money.

MODERNIZE with Paint

Any kitchen or bathroom, regardless of size or shape, can be made very attractive, if properly styled with paint color. Unsightly fixtures or old fashioned woodwork can be blended out of notice. Even old, well-worn, scuffed floors can be made smart looking by spattering or stencilling. Use color freely in your kitchen and bathroom. We have a wide range of the season's newest color schemes to choose from. It costs very little to paint a kitchen or bathroom. But be sure to use good paint that will withstand frequent washing down with soap suds because kitchens and bathrooms get hard wear and are bound to accumulate a dingy film, finger marks or dirt smudges that just can't be avoided. You don't need cash. Paint jobs applied (your favorite painter if you wish) on low monthly payments.
